

Spring 2008 Faculty Workshops

Private Dining Room, 12:45 p.m. – 2:00 p.m.

- January 14 Thomas Healy, Seton Hall University School of Law
Brandenburg in a Time of Terror
- January 28 Ronald J. Colombo, Hofstra University School of Law
Ownership, Limited: Reconciling Traditional and Progressive Corporate Law via an Aristotelian Understanding of Ownership
- February 11 Sherry F. Colb, Rutgers School of Law (Newark) & Columbia Law School
Why Is Torture "Different" and How "Different" Is It?
- February 25 Kenneth C. Kettering, New York Law School
Securitization and Its Discontents
- March 3 Rebecca M. Bratspies, CUNY School of Law
The Need for Trust in Regulatory Systems
- March 10 Alexandra D. Lahav, University of Connecticut School of Law
Advocacy at Unfair Hearings
- March 24 Melanie Leslie, Benjamin N. Cardozo School of Law & Columbia Law School
Strengthening Fiduciary Norms in Nonprofit Corporations
- March 31 Michael M. O’Hear, Marquette University School of Law
“Lovely Rita”?: Procedural Justice and Federal Sentencing
- April 7 Rosemary C. Salomone, St. John’s University School of Law
Official English: The Reality and the Rhetoric
- April 14 Jean Braucher, University of Arizona James E. Rogers College of Law
The Supreme Court's 5-4 Rejection of Textualist Interpretation of the Bankruptcy Code in Marrama v. Citizens Bank of Massachusetts

For more information, contact:

Michael A. Simons, Associate Dean for Faculty Scholarship and Professor of Law
(718) 990-6013, simonsm@stjohns.edu